

International Registration Plan (IRP) Established Place of Business, Residency, or Change of Address

For new accounts, check the proper box and list your established place of business address. An established place of business is a physical structure—not a post office address—that displays the account name, is owned or leased, and is located within the base jurisdictions. It must be open during normal business hours. If you don't have an established place of business, you must show proof of residency in Washington.

If you are an existing IRP customer and have a new address, check the proper box and fill out the applicable areas.

You must also provide three of the following documents: a telephone bill, utility bill, driver license, property tax notification, federal income tax return, personal income tax return, lease or mortgage document, or anything that will identify the name and business address. The copies you provide will be destroyed.
