

Vehicle Impound Notice

To be sent by First-Class Mail within 24 hours of impoundment

Date

This vehicle, that you have an apparent ownership of, has been impounded by this tow truck company.
If you have questions, call the tow truck company at this number: _____

- Who will the tow company release the vehicle to? Once fees are paid to the tow company, this vehicle may be redeemed by: the legal owner, the registered owner, the vehicle's insurer, someone authorized in writing by the registered owner, a person determined and verified by the towing firm to have permission of the registered owner, or someone who has purchased the vehicle from the registered owner who produces proof of ownership or written authorization and signs a receipt.
- How to pay and what to bring. This vehicle shall be released upon the presentation of commercially reasonable tender, including but not limited to: cash, a major bank credit card, or a personal check drawn on an in-state bank if accompanied by two pieces of valid I.D., one of which may be required to have a photograph. The law provides penalties for stopping payment on credit card charges, using invalid credit cards, stopping payment on a check, or issuing a check with non-sufficient funds.
- Hearings. You have the right to request a hearing in the district/municipal court in the county where the vehicle was towed to contest the validity of the impoundment or the towing and storage fees. The tow truck company will provide you with a hearing request form when you seek to redeem the vehicle. Your hearing request must be received by the court within 10 days of the date that you seek to redeem the vehicle and not less than 5 days before the auction. A filing fee is required when you file the hearing request form with the court clerk.
- Satisfaction of penalties (if applicable). If you were the driver and are the registered owner, you must provide proof of satisfaction of any penalties, fines, or forfeitures from the impounding agency or court before the vehicle can be redeemed.
