Intrastate:	vehicles traveling in only one jurisdiction
Interstate:	vehicles traveling in more than one jurisdiction
Tax return:	the form used by an IFTA licensee to report fuel taxes quarterly

What is an IFTA license?

IFTA is an agreement among states and Canadian provinces that standardizes the reporting of fuel taxes by motor carriers operating in more than one state or province. An IFTA license allows you to file only one tax return to your base jurisdiction and report miles traveled and fuel purchased in all IFTA jurisdictions.

The plan requires licensees to report fuel taxes by filing quarterly tax returns. Types of fuel include gasoline, diesel, propane, natural gas, and gasohol. Within Prorate and Fuel Tax, the IFTA unit processes tax returns and reports information to IFTA, Inc. Your fuel taxes are collected and distributed to member jurisdictions.

To qualify for a Washington IFTA license, you must have:

- a commercial vehicle over 26,000 pounds gw (gross vehicle weight) traveling in two or more states or provinces,
- vehicles with three or more axles regardless of weight, and,
- a combination of vehicles that weigh more than a total of 26,000 pounds gw or registered gw but does not include recreational vehicles.

An IFTA license is valid for one calendar year and expires on December 31. Display the current year IFTA license and decals (see Decals below for placement) within 60 days of the first day of the calendar year. A copy of this license must be carried in each qualified vehicle. You can renew your license by:

- Submitting a completed decal application which we mail to you in October of the current year,
- Filing all returns up to the revocation, and,
- Paying any fuel taxes due.

Decals

As an IFTA licensee, you purchase IFTA decals to display on the truck cab. They must be on both the driver's and passenger's side lower rear exterior of the cab. Decals are purchased annually at $10 for a set.

Special fuel permits

If you are not an IFTA licensee and need to travel in Washington, you may purchase a Special Fuel permit. These three-day permits may be purchased by contacting an authorized Vehicle Licensing agent or from DOT's permitting office.

Cancellation and revocation

- Current IFTA licensees may cancel their license at any time, by marking a current tax return in the "cancel license" section and adding the effective date or you may send us a letter.
- A revocation of an IFTA license will occur for failing to file a quarterly tax return or for not paying your fuel taxes. We will send you a "Notice of Intent to Revoke" letter and you will have 20 days to submit your tax return and payment. You cannot operate in any member jurisdiction if you have a revoked license. If you are licensed under the International Registration Plan (IRP) in Washington, this license will also be revoked.
- To reissue your revoked or cancelled license, you will need to complete the following:
 - complete a new IFTA License Application
 - submit all tax returns due
 - pay any unpaid balances for each license
 - include $100 reinstatement fee for each revoked license reissued.

Recordkeeping

You must keep your IFTA records for four years from the date the tax return was due or filed, whichever is later. The IFTA procedure manual requires you to keep the Driver's Daily Logs for four years if you use them as your only source documentation for operations.

An audit of your business activities will include several major areas:

1. Fuel verification of proper amounts and classifications reported on the return.
2. Verification of deductions and exemptions of proper amounts documented.
3. Mileage verification of total and jurisdictional miles reported on your reports or applications.
